GRADING MAKES ALL THE DIFFERENCE!

The advantages of grading your game-used material are undeniable. Photo-matching and grading are the most important financial tools you have in adding value to your collectibles.

Factors to consider before grading:

- CONDITION
- DESIRABILITY
- AVAILABILITY
- LIQUIDITY

Whether it be cards, autographs, jersey or bats, a grade of 10 is worth exponentially more than a lower grade, allowing collectors to set new pricing benchmarks. Our services offer an incredible visual, adding confidence and value to your treasured collectibles.

KIT YOUNG IS BUYING!!!!!!

NEW BUYING LIST

We have revamped our buying list to include many more stars, including professionally graded cards. When you review this, please remember it is new and may contain typographical errors. Please call if you see prices that are unrealistically high or low.

We expect these buy prices to be good until 10-30-2020. Buy prices subject to change due to market fluctuations or quantities.

Graded cards: We buy cards graded by PSA, SGC and BVG only. We pay the same prices for all three companies on cards $1000 or less and 80-90% for SGC and BVG cards above $1000. We do not buy cards with qualifications (MC, OC, ST, MK, etc).

Centering: Please send cards centered 75/25 or better (not cards way off center). Please call if you have high value cards with poor centering to discuss buy price.

If you have questions, please call 858-259-1300 and ask for Kit or Rob Rosen.

Don't forget – we are big buyers of collections and accumulations, including sets, partial sets, star cards, regional issues, Topps insert sets, specialty sets and more. Please call.

WE PAY THESE PRICES FOR SETS...

An overwhelming act of kindness

In this turbulent year of the virus and natural disasters, how refreshing to find a story from the hobby that touches the heart and leaves you feeling good about the world in which we live.

It's a story about tragedy and heartbreak, and an overwhelming act of kindness.

The Creek Fire in California destroyed the Fresno home of Reese Osterberg, a 9-year-old baseball fan who had been collecting baseball cards for two years. That collection was lost to the fire.

Kevin Ashford of San Jose saw Reese's story and decided to donate his own baseball card collection of 25,000 cards to her and her friends, who also lost cards in the fire.

"I had initially planned on selling my cards on eBay," Ashford told CNN. "But when I thought about the smile I could put on that little girl's face, it was an easy decision. I felt compelled to donate the cards to her."

Ashford told CNN his collection, dating to the 1960s, was probably worth $35,000 to $50,000.

He contacted CAL FIRE officials, who had started a Step Up to the Plate donation campaign to help replace kids' baseball cards, and the San Jose Fire Department also assisted by picking up his boxes of cards and delivering them to Reese and her friends.

Reese, being a fan of San Francisco Giants catcher Buster Posey, went through the cards to find Posey's. As if that wasn't enough, Reese received a few other surprises. One was a Zoom call from Posey, which left her speechless. Another was a package from her favorite team (the Giants) that had a signed baseball and new gear. She also received items from sports memorabilia shops, including a signed Pee Wee Reese card and a signed Trevor Hoffman ball.

"It's the best day I've ever had," she told ABC News Fresno. "It's more than awesome, probably."

The odyssey of Tony La Russa's minor league pants:

Before his time with the Lovable Losers—the New York Mets, who lost a record 120 games in 1962—Marv Throneberry played for the Kansas City A's where in 1961 he was issued two sets of home uniforms at the beginning of the season. In those days, after the season, uniforms were recycled, sent on a journey through the minor leagues, starting at Triple-A.

At some point during his five years in the minor leagues from 1964-67, Tony La Russa was issued a pair of Marvelous Marv's hand-me-downs, but not before they were worn by a player named Bates.

Inside the pants was written "No. 3 set 2 – 61," indicating Throneberry's uniform number, the second set of uniforms and 1961. Bates' name was written above La Russa's.

Next in line to wear the pants, apparently, was Joe Grace, a draft pick of the A's in 1967. Grace wore the pants while playing in the rookie league in Florida. He was the last to wear them and wound up with them.

So how is this all tied together? Well, with La Russa coming out of retirement at age 76 to manage the Chicago White Sox, Jim Vankoski, curator of the Sports Legends of Delaware County Museum's Mickey Vernon Gallery, resurrected the story.

SAN JOSE FIRE DEPARTMENT

"Joe Grace, a very good friend of mine, offered us his old minor league pants since Tony La Russa is in the Hall and (in the minors) played for Mickey Vernon, a Delaware County icon," Vankoski told SCD.

Vernon was a seven-time MLB All-Star and two-time A.L. batting champion with the Washington Senators in his 20-year career with five teams.

And Grace's Delaware County connection? He was a record-setting St. James High and St. Joe's College third baseman.

Vankoski happened to see La Russa at the MLB Winter Meetings one year and showed him the pants, to which La Russa responded, "I'll be damned."

Honus Wagner card fetches record $1.4 million

The sports card market continued to sizzle as evidenced by the record prices fetched for cards of Honus Wagner, Mickey Mantle, LeBron James, Michael Jordan, Giannis Antetokounmpo and soccer legend Pelé in Goldin Auctions' 2020 October Legends Auction that closed Oct. 31.

The T206 Wagner card fetched $1,426,800, the highest price paid for that card graded a PSA PR-FR 1.

Other staggering prices in the auction:

- A 1952 Topps #311 Mantle sold for $584,250, the highest price paid for that card graded a PSA NM-MT 8.
- A 2003-04 Ultimate Collection #127 James signed rookie card (42/250) sold for $344,400, the highest price paid for a PRISTINE 10/Black Label 10 by BGS with signature graded 10 by Beckett.

- A 1958 Alifabola #635 Pelé rookie card graded a PSA MINT 9 sold for $295,200, making it the highest-priced soccer card of all time.
- A 1997-98 Metal Universe Precious Metal Gems Red #23 Jordan (56/100) sold for $233,400, the highest price paid for the Red PMG Card graded BGS NM-MT+ 8.5.
- A 1986-87 Fleet #57 Jordan rookie card sold for $124,230, the highest price paid for a PSA GEM MT 10.
- A 2013-14 National Treasures #130 Antetokounmpo signed jersey rookie card BGS MINT 9/BGS 10 (65/99) sold for $124,230, the highest price paid for an Antetokounmpo National Treasures RPA /99.

POST-WORLD SERIES PRICES FOR DODGERS TRIO

CREAM RISES — The L.A. Dodgers' win over the Tampa Bay Rays in the 2020 World Series showed us again that the cream usually rises to the top. In this case, it means MVP Corey Seager, who smacked two homers, drove in five runs, scored seven and hit .400 in the six-game series.

In honor of Seager's command performance, here's a look at post-World Series prices paid at eBay for notable items:

- $2,125 on 32 bids for a lot of three Seager-signed 2012 Bowman Chrome rookie cards. All three were Refractor variations (two of them Blue, with print runs of 150). And all were graded BGS 9.5 with a 10 for the sigs.
- $1,525 on 41 bids for a single 2012 Bowman Chrome signed Gold Refractor card, this one graded BGS 9.
- $565 on 19 bids for a 2017 Topps

Museum Collection autographed Seager card, one of only 50 produced. It was ungraded.

Fellow Dodgers stars Clayton Kershaw and Mookie Betts were equally impactful in the World Series. Kershaw showed his "ace" stuff, winning both of his starts and registering a sparkling 2.31 ERA and 0.857 WHIP. On eBay, top Kershaw collectibles drew these prices in the days following the Fall Classic:

- $4,350 on 36 bids for a 2006 Bowman Chrome Blue Refractor Kershaw rookie. The card, graded BGS 9.5, is one of only 150 printed.
- $2,276 on 57 bids for a 2006 Bowman Chrome Kershaw rookie graded PSA 10.
- $1,325 on four bids for a 2015 Heritage Dual Autograph card featuring photos and sigs of both Kershaw and Sandy Koufax. Marked #1 of 25, the card was graded PSA 9.

Betts, like Seager, homered twice in the World Series while batting .269 with five runs scored. Among the post-Series prices paid for Betts items:

- $13,211 on 35 bids for a 2014 Bowman Chrome signed Gold Refractor rookie card of Betts. One of only 50 made, the card was graded BGS 9.5
 - $13,100 on 36 bids for, yes, another BGS 9.5 example of the same autographed card.
 - $7,600 on 41 bids for a 2014 Betts-autographed Bowman Black card graded PSA 10. The card was numbered 41/99.
- Baseballs signed by one of the three Dodgers stars here are selling for $200 to $400, depending on condition and authentication.

LEGENDS LIVE ON — No matter how much football we watch every year, we just won't find a player as dominant as Jim Brown. The Cleveland Browns legend brutalized opposing NFL defenses between 1957 and 1965, rushing for 12,312 yards (averaging 5.2 yards per carry) and gaining another 2,499 through the air. Combined, he scored 126 touchdowns and, for good measure, threw for three more.

Brown retired at age 30, when he was still at the peak of his powers. But NFL fans and football history buffs won't ever forget him. In fact, pop onto YouTube if you want a Brown refresher; you can spend hours looking at highlight films.

Likewise, collectors won't forget Brown. Just the opposite. In recent online auctions at eBay, a number of impressive items changed hands. The biggest prices paid, of course, were for his first card. Within the space of six weeks, we saw three 1958 Topps rookie cards of Brown—all graded PSA 8—sell for a range of prices: $26,079 on 113 bids; $19,200 on 64 bids; and $18,500 on 31 bids.

We also saw several PSA 7-graded Brown rookies sell for prices between $6,850 (29 bids) and $10,100 (49 bids).

Brown's second-year card is far more budget-friendly, as you'd expect. One example graded PSA 9 Mint got away for $3,658 on 40 bids.

Then there's his popular 1964 Philadelphia Gum Co. card, well known in the hobby because the fullback's beloved Cadillac appears in the background. A PSA 9 specimen of that issue recently sold for $1,240.

DB DEPTH IN FOOTBALL HEAVEN

— We recently mourned the loss of an impressive list of baseball players who died in 2020. Last month, the passing of former football great Herb Adderley reminded us that the NFL lost an equally impressive list of players this year, among them Gale Sayers and Fred Dean. We'll take a closer look at collectibles tied to those luminaries next time in this space. For now, we'll pay tribute to what would be an All-Star defensive back-field: cornerback Adderley; fellow Hall of Famers Willie Wood and Larry Wilson, both safeties; and cornerback Ken Riley, whose exclusion from the Hall of Fame is mysterious, if not stupefying.

Riley spent his entire career for the Bengals and rarely missed a contest, playing in 207 games in 15 seasons. He logged an amazing 65 interceptions, returning five for touchdowns, and recovered 18 fumbles. Only four players ever picked off more passes than Riley, and all four are in the Hall (Paul Krause, Emlen Tunnell, Rod Woodson and Dick "Night Train" Lane).

Riley's oversight among Hall of Fame voters mirrors his place in the collectibles market: He's perennially undervalued. You can pick up his rookie card, a 1973 Topps, for less than $10, ungraded. (It rarely shows up as a graded card.)

despite his HOF status and impressive stats (52 interceptions, 14 fumble recoveries and seven touchdowns in 13 seasons)—is also undervalued. You can pick up his rookie card, from Topps' 1963 set, for $90 to $110 in 8-grade condition. Post Cereal put out a Wilson card a year earlier (1962). A rarity today, the card is nonetheless budget-friendly, as we saw in a September auction when one sold for $15.

Adderley played for the two franchises that claim to be "America's Team"—the Packers and the Cowboys. He picked off 48 passes and returned seven for TDs, and also recovered 14 fumbles and returned two kickoffs for TDs. Adderley's rookie card is a 1964 Philadelphia Gum Co. issue that sells for upwards of $200 if in 9 grade. In 7 or 8 grade, it can be had for $30 to $75.

Willie Wood, like his Packer teammate, intercepted 48 passes, returning two for touchdowns. He also recovered 16 fumbles and returned two punts for TDs. Recent examples of Wood's rookie card, from Topps' 1963 set, sold on eBay for $175 (graded BVG 8) and $95 (PSA 7.5)

Items autographed by Adderley and Wood go for a variety of prices: $25 to $50 for photos or cards; $150 to $200 for footballs; and $250 to $350 for mini-helmets and jerseys.

Rookies & Stars shine in Panini release

2020 PANINI ROOKIES & STARS

Rookies & Stars from Panini features the biggest name players the NFL has to offer and includes one of the trading card world's most iconic inserts—Collect Crusade.

Chase a 100-card base set of all the top players in the NFL in Base True Blue. One hundred of the newest NFL rookies are on display in Rookies Black & Blue. Collect autographs of the latest rookies in Rookies Longevity Signatures Orange.

In Stellar Rookies Red, collect this stunning Opti-Chrome rookie insert, featuring 10 of the most collectible rookies from the 2020 draft. In Crusade Signatures, collect at least two Opti-Chrome inserts per box, on average. Be on the lookout for SP autographed versions numbered 25 or less. In Great American Heroes Gold, chase players who strive for greatness on and off the football field, done in Opti-Chrome.

Statistical Standouts Signatures Platinum showcases some of the greatest players to hit the gridiron. These autographed memorabilia cards are numbered to 99 or less and feature Prime & Platinum versions numbered as low as 1/1.

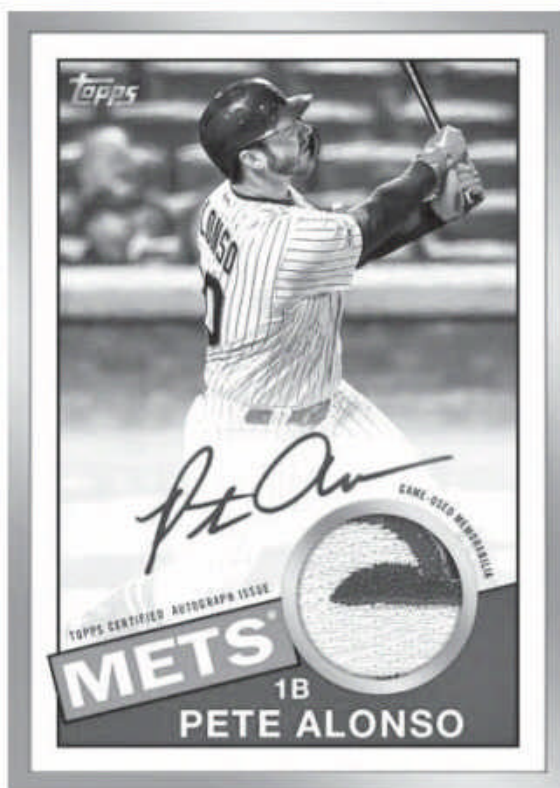

Find autographed memorabilia cards of the top rookies in Dress for Success Prime. This insert is exclusive to the hobby and numbered 99 or less. Look for Team Duals Prime memorabilia cards with combinations of the best rookie and veteran players in the NFL.

The hobby configuration is 10 cards per pack, six packs per box and 14 boxes per case. The box break is two autograph cards, two memorabilia cards, 22 inserts, 12 rookies and five numbered parallels. The release was scheduled for Nov. 18.

2020-21 UPPER DECK SERIES 1 HOCKEY

2020 TRANSCENDENT COLLECTION BASEBALL

A popular yearly release from Topps, the Transcendent Collection returns Dec. 9 with 54 autographs, one sketch, two complete sets and one VIP invite per box.

Specifically, the box break is one full Icons Base Set (50 cards), one full Transcendent Club Members Reproductions Set (100 cards), 50 autographs (numbered 25 or less) and one each of the following: 1955 Topps Superfractor Autograph, Through the Years Bryce Harper Autograph, Autographed Patch or Cut Signature Book, Oversized Cut Signature or Autograph Patch Letter—all 1/1—and the VIP Invitation (#'d to 95). Past special guests have included Ken Griffy Jr. (2019), Mike Trout (2018), Hank Aaron (2017) and Kris Bryant (2016).

Among the Cut Signature book cards with genuine bat relics, featuring either a nameplate or bat knob, are these legendary players: Mel Ott, Pee Wee Reese, Gil Hodges, Willie Mays, Tris Speaker, Hank Greenberg, Thurman Munson, Babe Ruth, Christy Mathewson, Honus Wagner, Jimmie Foxx and many more.

Among the 1-of-1 Cut Signature cards are non-sports, historical figures, such as Abraham Lincoln, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Orville Wright, Orson Welles, John Quincy Adams, John F. Kennedy, Harry Houdini, Charlie Chaplin and others.

Upper Deck's flagship product sports a 250-card base set, which includes 198 regular cards, 49 Young Guns and three checklist cards. Look for the highly sought-after Exclusives (numbered to 100), High Gloss (numbered to 10) and Clear Cut parallels, each of which are Hobby Exclusive. It has also expanded the base set parallel offering in 2020-21, adding a French version of the full set.

Young Guns are the most anticipated rookie cards of the year and scouts are buzzing about the depth of the 2020-21 class, labeling several prospects as "elite." Rookie Retrospective cards are back; this insert, which features rare jersey and patch parallels, showcases the top performing rookies of the previous season.

Look for four new inserts, including NHL Worldwide (players with the flag of their country), Dazzlers (brightly colored cards of active stars), Predominant (the game's biggest superstars against a b&w background) and Debut Dates (first games of top players).

Another favorite among collectors, the UD Canvas insert returns, as do UD Portraits. And Look for UD Game Jersey.

The rare, highly collectible Clear Cut PETG inserts return at a rate of one per case, on average. This year's themes include Foundation Duos, Leaders Trios, Honored Members Updates and Cup Components. Search for Ceremonial Puck Drop, a rare insert that returns, boasting a checklist slated to include Hall of Famers, such as Dominik Hasek.

The hobby configuration is eight cards per pack, 24 packs per box. Box break average is six Young Guns Rookie Cards, four UD Canvas, six inserts (Debut Dates, NHL Worldwide, Predominant, Rookie Retrospective), four UD Portraits Inserts, and one Dazzlers Blue insert. The release date was scheduled for Nov. 18.

Rare set of Mascot Dog Food cards featured in Mile High Card Co. auction

A recent find of 1954 Mascot Dog Food cards of Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra sent shockwaves throughout the hobby as the first and only known specimens from the mysterious regional issue. Both cards received minimal 1.5 grades and were sold with the Mantle fetching nearly $25,000.

Now, Mile High Card Company in Castle Rock, Colo., is announcing the discovery of a near-complete set, including the membership card and an 8x10 photo premium that were only available through a mail-in offer.

“Other than the previous sale of the Mantle and Berra, these are the only Mascot Dog Food cards known and they are spectacular,” the Mile High Card Company said. “The cards all have a NM to NM/MT appearance, and the technical grades do not adequately reflect the factory-fresh nature of these unique specimens.”

Missing only the card of Bucky Harris, the other 10 cards in the series as well as the oversized premium of Robin Roberts are represented, answering questions as to who is in the Mascot Dog Food lineup but posing others as to why.

Legends like Mantle (PSA 5), Berra (PSA 6.5), Gil Hodges (PSA 5.5), and Eddie Mathews (PSA AUTHENTIC) are understandable, and Al Rosen (PSA 5.5), Eddie Lopat (PSA 6), Roberts (PSA 5.5), Monte Irvin (PSA 4), and Don Newcombe (PSA 5.5) make sense given the set’s roots in the northeastern United States, but the final card, George “Specs” Toporcer (PSA 5), a St. Louis Cardinals infielder who retired in 1928, is more of a mystery.

It is thought that they all may have had the same agent, who had input in the production of the series, but that isn’t confirmed. Also of interest is the Mathews card, graded AUTHENTIC due to its slightly smaller size and nameplate at the top rather than the bottom.

It’s also now known from the information on the back of the cards that the set was originally a group of eight, then revised to 11 with the addition of Mantle, Newcombe, and Hodges at some point after. These cards are the only examples on record at PSA, came fresh out of the original envelope in which they were housed and sat untouched for virtually their entire existence with the family that received them from the company nearly 70 years ago.

This amazing discovery will be of great interest for type collectors and especially Mickey Mantle aficionados that have a chance to secure an example of “The Commerce Comet” that appears to be even more scarce than his enigmatic 1961 Topps Dice Game card.

This collection, being sold as individual cards in the December auction which runs from Nov. 23 to Dec. 10, is just the start of an incredible event that will close out 2020. For future consignments or information on this December auction, call MHCC at (303) 840-2784 or visit www.milehighcardco.com.

TREY MANCINI

TAKING THE LEAGUE BY STORM IN 2017
WAS TREY MANCINI -- 25-YEAR-OLD ROOKIE
OUTFIELDER/FIRST BASEMAN FOR

THE BALTIMORE ORIOLES. IN 147 GAMES FOR THE 2017 BIRDS, TREY HIT .293 WITH 24 HOMERS AND 78 RUNS BATTED IN.

AFTER ANOTHER 24-HOMER CAMPAIGN IN 2018, THE RIGHTY-SWINGING SLUGGER BLEW UP IN 2019 WHEN HE BATTED .291 WITH 35 LONG BALLS AND 97 DRIVEN
IN. NOW A BONA FIDE STAR, THE SKY WAS THE LIMIT
IN 2020 -- UNTIL THE UNTHINKABLE HAPPENED:

TREY WAS DIAGNOSED WITH STAGE III COLON
CANCER. IT'S A DEVASTATING THING TO HEAR FOR ANYONE. ESPECIALLY SOMEONE JUST 27 YEARS
OF AGE. AND ESPECIALLY FOR A 27-YEAR OLD WORLD CLASS ATHLETE ENTERING THE PRIME OF HIS LIFE. NOW, INSTEAD OF BATTLING A.L.
EAST RIVALS LIKE THE YANKS AND RED SOX, TREY IS BATTLING CANCER. BUT THIS KID HAS THE HEART OF A FIGHTER AND A WINNING ATTITUDE --
SO IF ANYONE CAN BEAT THIS, HE CAN. LOOK NO

"I HAVE STAGE III COLON CANCER," TREY SAID, "AND I

MAN, I LOVE BASEBALL."

I'LL BE OKAY!
SEE YOU IN 2021!

Note: On Nov. 1, two months after completing cancer treatment, Trey Mancini was moved from the Injured List to the Orioles' 40-man roster for the first time since starting treatment in March.

BEST Baseball BOOKS OF 2020

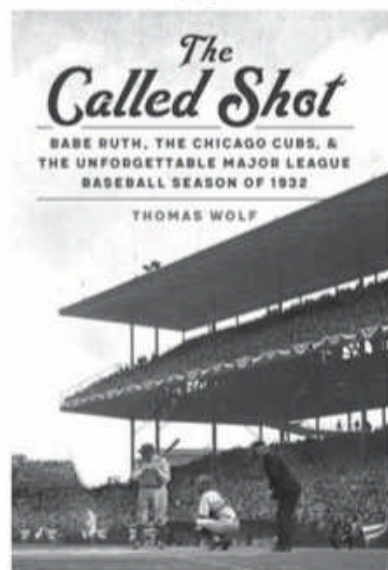

A list of the year's top literary works about our national pastime

In a year made for reading rather than rooting, the nation's publishers hit a home run in producing great baseball literature.

Titles range from "The New Baseball Bible: Notes, Nuggets, Lists, and Legends from Our National Pastime" to biographies of Yogi Berra, Jim Bouton, Roy Halladay, and Effa Manley – the only female member of the Baseball Hall of Fame.

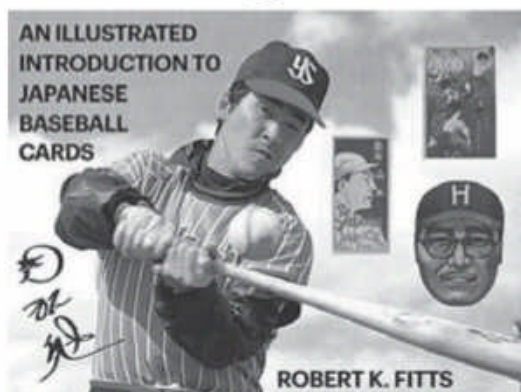

Rating them, as always, is hard, but adhering to three rules helps: nonfiction only, new titles only, and no personal favorites (sorry, "New Baseball Bible"). That being said, here's how they rate:

The Called Shot: Babe Ruth, the Chicago Cubs, and the Unforgettable Major League Baseball Season of 1932
(University of Nebraska, 408 pp., $36.95), by Thomas Wolf. In an era of 16 teams, day baseball, and social upheaval, Babe Ruth, Rogers Hornsby, and Jimmie Foxx were heroes to millions glued to radio and newspapers. Historian Tom Wolf even says Ruth called his shot twice – including the legendary blow in the 1932 World Series.

An Illustrated Introduction to Japanese Baseball Cards
(RobsJapaneseCards.com, 77 pp., $19.99), by Robert K. Fitts. The most gorgeous baseball book of 2020, this illustrated history is filled with color pictures of baseball cards unseen by most Americans, plus photos of U.S. stars who toured there. This compact coffee-table book fills an important void in baseball literature.

Fenway 1946: Red Sox, Peace, and a Year of Hope
(Lyons Press, 256 pp., $28), by Michael Connelly. Another book that focuses on a year, this hardcover is a significant addition to baseball history because it covers the first year of the postwar era and the return of both the game and country to normalcy.

Yogi: A Life Behind the Mask (Little, Brown, 576 pp., $30), by Jon Pessah. This hefty hardcover delves into the three-time MVP's personal life, from the Normandy invasion to meeting and marrying Carmen and the establishment of the Yogi Berra Museum in Little Falls, N.J. Author Jon Pessah says, "Yogi's story was far more complex than I could have imagined."

The Incredible Women of the All-American Girls Professional Baseball League (Chronicle Books, 160 pp., $19.95), by Anika Orrock. The best of several books about the war-time league is a coffee-table keepsake because the author is also an accomplished illustrator.

Queen of the Negro Leagues: Effa Manley and the Newark Eagles (Rowman & Littlefield, 312 pp., $35), by James Overmyer. The only woman in the Baseball Hall of Fame gallery never reached the majors but certainly influenced them, as author James Overmyer reveals in his hard-to-research volume.

Gotham Baseball: New York's All-Time Team (The History Press, 192 pp., $21.99), by Mark C. Healey, foreword by Marty Appel. With four big league teams hailing from New York, Mark Healey filled every position – and John Pennisi illustrated players depicted in "Gotham" uniforms designed by Todd Radom. This is the best-illustrated baseball book of 2020.

The Bill James Handbook 2020 (ACTA Sports, 634 pp., $30), edited by Bill James and Rob Dougherty. Current player and team records, performance projections, plus essays on subjects like future 300-game winners fill this hefty annual, a vital companion for writers and fans alike.

24: Life Stories and Legends from The Say Hey Kid (St. Martin's Press, 340 pp., $38.50), by Willie Mays and John Shea. Willie could handle Warren Spahn but was afraid of dogs. A survivor of segregation and Negro Leagues baseball, he battled his way to the bigs but loved the game so much he played stickball in the streets of Harlem. He shares his stories with Giants beat writer John Shea.

10

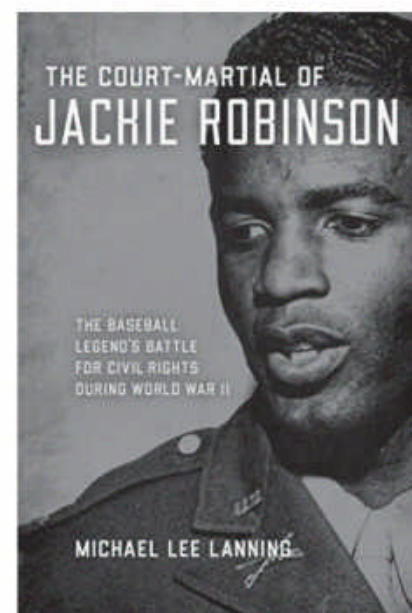

Bouton: The Life of a Baseball Original (University of Nebraska, 407 pp., $34.95), by Mitchell Nathanson. Ballplayer, broadcaster, and author, the outspoken Bouton bounced from Yankees star to Braves knuckleballer with an eight-year hiatus in between. Nathanson leaves no stone unturned.

11

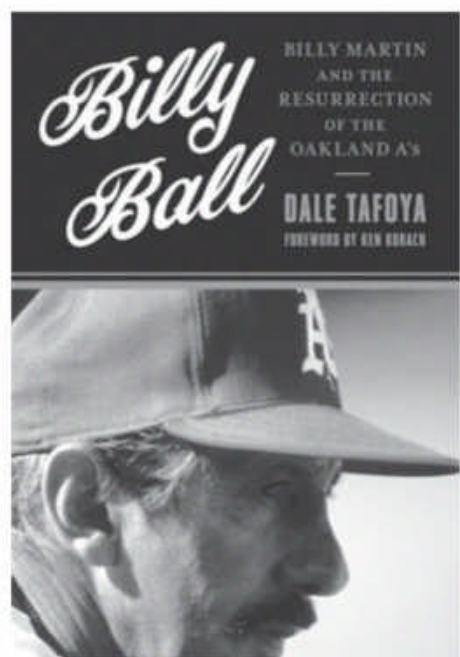

The Wax Pack: On the Open Road in Search of Baseball's Afterlife (University of Nebraska, 280 pp., $27.95), by Brad Balukjian. The author bought and opened a pack of 1986 Topps cards, found the 14 players included, and produced a hardcover packed with their personal and professional stories – some of them surprisingly candid.

12

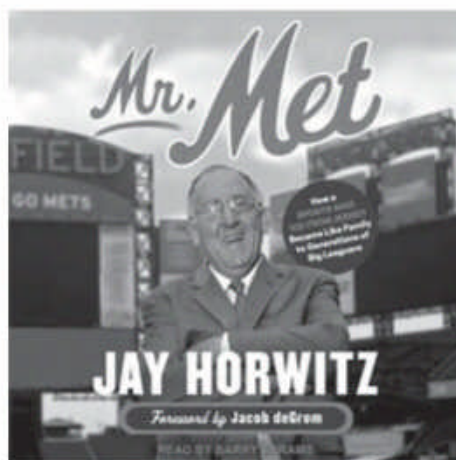

The Court Martial of Jackie Robinson (Stackpole Books, 283 pp., $29.95), by Michael Lee Lanning. The latest in a line of Jackie Robinson books is the most unusual, as it leans on his court martial in 1944 – three years before he broke the baseball color line. There's lots of baseball too, including chapters on Branch Rickey, spring training, and lingering segregation.

13

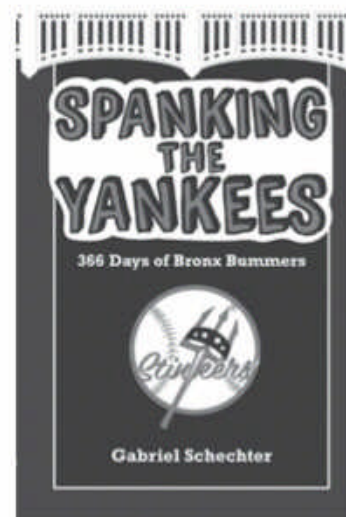

Billy Ball: Billy Martin and the Resurrection of the Oakland A's (Lyons Press, 264 pp., $24.95), by Dale Tafoya, foreword by Ken Korach. Though baseball makes strange bedfellows, none seemed quite as unlikely as Charley Finley and Billy Martin – two men whose abrasive personalities kept them out of Cooperstown. But BillyBall worked quickly and worked well.

14

Mr. Met: How a Sports-Mad Kid From Jersey Became Like Family to Generations of Big Leaguers (Triumph Books, 258 pp., $38), by Jay Horwitz, forward by Jacob deGrom. The long-time Mets PR man, my former Passaic Herald-News colleague, tells tons of inside stories in the funniest baseball book of the year. Way to go, Jay!

15

Spanking the Yankees: 366 Days of Bronx Bummers (Summer Game Books, 276 pp., $18.99), by Gabriel Schechter. A clever paperback that Yankee haters will love, this easy-to-read tome features three indexes: names, dates, and incidents. There are plenty of those, including brawls, bad deals, and George Steinbrenner's hirings and firings of managers, coaches, and publicists. If something bad befell the team (like winning one world championship out of 15 playoff series), Schechter found it.

Autograph collector makes return to hobby

BY CLAYTON TRUTOR

Most little boys like playing sports. Many of them like watching sports. Some little boys write letters to their favorite players, begging for autographs. I wrote letters to college coaches, giving them advice on their play-calling. And, of course, begging for 8x10 glossy photographs that bore their resplendent signatures. Gene Stallings, Lou Holtz, Bobby Bowden, Gary Barnett, John Thompson, Dean Smith, Mike Krzyzewski.

Heck, I was such a weirdo that I even wrote letters to referees. NFL referees Jerry Seeman, Dick Hantak, and Bob McElwee never got back to me. But Red “Giving Him the Business” Cashion did. He wrote me a note encouraging me to become a referee, sent me a business card from his insurance agency in College Station, Texas, as well as an autographed football card.

I didn’t follow Red’s advice. When I got to high school, I suddenly thought that being the bassist in Jethro Tull was more impressive than being the offensive coordinator for the University of Alabama football team. When I got to college, I forgot about Jethro Tull and took up analytic philosophy, postcolonial studies, and Dostoevsky. I never became a referee and all of my autographs sat entombed in a plastic tub my mother bought me for my 12th birthday.

Eventually, I made my way back. Twenty years after I hounded every coach in North America for their signature and convinced my parents to show up 37 hours early for every big league baseball game we ever attended, I got back into autograph collecting. Initially, my foray back into the hobby consisted solely of organizing the autographs that I had. I started perusing the Sports Collectors Digest website for ideas on how to consolidate the collection into a compact and enjoyable form.

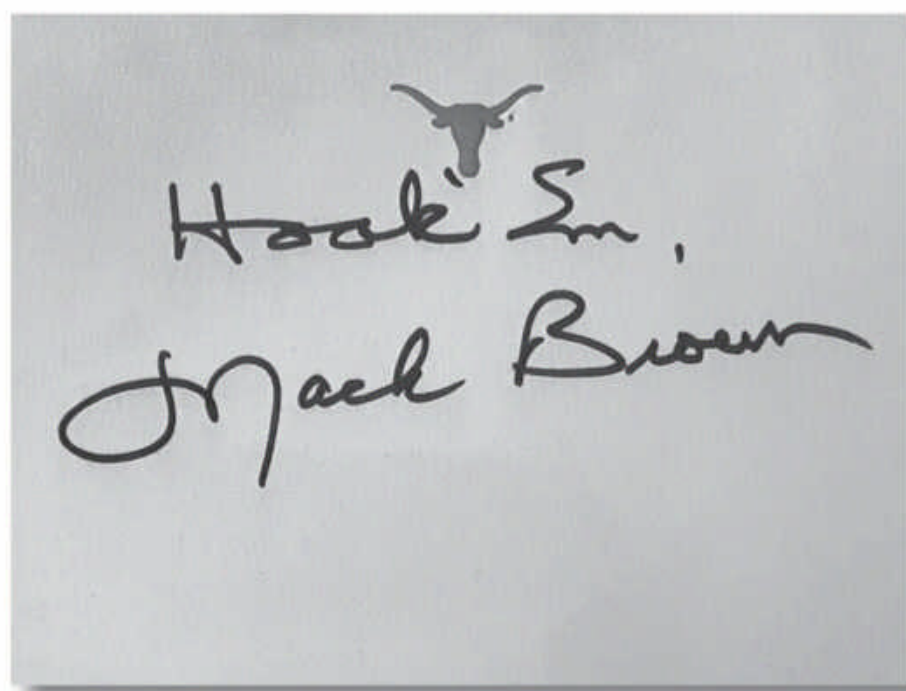

I purchased a fat, three-ring binder, some clear plastic pages, and some comic book backing boards. On a rainy Saturday afternoon, I placed all of my autographed pictures, ticket stubs, and pieces of notebook paper into the binder. To improve the presentation of the numerous autographed slips of paper in my binder, I acquired a sports card of the player in question and placed it next to their autograph. All of a sudden, I had an instant conversation starter I could show off to friends, family, and new acquaintances.

Once I had my collection in order, I got back into seeking signatures. The autographs I’ve sought have been purely nostalgic, mostly college coaches to add to my collection. It seems weird to me to seek out autographs from athletes and coaches that are younger than you. For me, autograph collecting was a combination of hero worship and constructive criticism towards coaches whom I thought were insufficiently aggressive in their play-calling. It was the equivalent of putting posters of Bobby Sherman and David Cassidy on my wall and blowing them kisses before bed.

The first letter I wrote was to former Tennessee football coach Phil Fullmer when he was rehired as the school’s athletic director.

Within a week of sending him a note, an autographed picture of the coach showed up at my door. Ohio University football coach Frank Solich, a favorite of mine since his time at Nebraska, also responded with an autographed 8x10.

My crowning achievement as a born-again autograph collector came on a cold night in the nosebleed seats of Boston College’s Alumni Stadium. Sitting in the last row of the upper deck, a seat that I love for its offensive coordinator-like view, I made the acquaintance of former Texas Longhorns coach Mack Brown. At the time, Brown was doing color commentary for ESPN. When I looked to my left, I saw Brown and Joe Tessitore calling the game from the press box, not 15 feet away. During a break, I caught Coach Brown’s attention by flashing him the “Hook ‘Em Horns” hand sign. Mack flashed it back and I responded with an exaggerated handwriting motion. The coach took an autographed piece of Longhorns stationary out of a folder on his desk and slid it to me through a narrow opening in the press box window.

I got lucky that time. “Hook ‘Em Horns” has long been a part of my repertoire. I’ve never been to Austin, but I’ve been flashing “Hook ‘Em Horns” at random passersby since the late 1980s. I realized that there are bound to be plenty of college sports hand signs with which I’m unfamiliar. Ever since that night, I’ve made a comprehensive study of the subject in case I ever sit in the nose bleed seats again near a press box containing a former college football coach whom I’ve long admired and whose former school happens to have a well-known hand sign.

‘Baggie Find’ is better than lottery, consigner says

Artist discovers value of vintage baseball cards before turning them into art, now they’ll be sold at Heritage Auctions

BY GREG BATES

RIGHT: Collection of vintage baseball cards that were stored in a baggie.

About 10 to 15 years ago, a woman was helping clean out a house after her relative had passed away.

The woman was given a box of items that were children orientated: paper dolls, books and some toys. There was also a regular sandwich-sized baggie filled with what she thought were old advertisements because of their small size. She thought nothing of it.

In mid-October this year, the woman, “Sue,” stumbled upon the old baggie with the “advertisement” cards. As a mixed media artist, Sue incorporates items into her art. She had hung on to the baggie to possibly use the images in a painting. She had planned to glue them onto a canvas.

One day, Sue was talking with a family friend. He’s a sports fan, so she thought he would get a kick out of the cards. She’d never showed them to anyone before and went to her studio to pull them out.

“When my friend saw them, he flipped out,” said Sue, who lives in south Florida and wishes anonymity. “He started looking at them and going through them and he came across Babe Ruth and some of the other famous ones – which I don’t even know, but I do know Babe Ruth. He really got excited and said, ‘I think this is something.’ He looked them up, and we were like amazed.”

What Sue had was 178 baseball cards that are over a century old. The cards are from the 1916 M101-4 Sporting News set, which featured 200 cards. The latest big find in the hobby has since been dubbed the “Baggie Find.”

“Honestly, I looked at them and I’d never have guessed those were original baseball cards,” Sue told Sports Collectors Digest. “We’re not sports people.”

With the suggestion from her friend to reach out to some auction houses, Sue called around and left a voicemail for Derek Grady, the vice president at Heritage Auctions. Grady quickly called Sue back on a Friday in October, and looked at photos of the Ruth and a Shoeless Joe Jackson, among others, she sent him. He flew to Florida three days later and met with Sue, her husband and her family friend.

“She had the cards laid out and I went through them,” Grady said. “She had the stars in one area and the rest of them in stacks. The first 40 cards were blank backs and the rest of them were Sporting News backs.”

Grady was impressed by the find. He was most astonished by how good a shape they were still in after 104 years and how they were stored.

“Half of them were ex to ex-mint, and I was just blown away by the condition,” Grady said. “She showed me she had stored them in a baggie. And I was like, ‘Oh my God.’ Sometimes people find the cards and put them in card savers or top loaders or boxes. She literally had them in a baggie.”

Grady picked out 24 cards to get graded and sent them off to SGC. The Ruth rookie came back a 4 (VG-EX) and the Jackson a 5 (EX). Most of the cards earned mid- to low-range grades. However, a Frank “Home Run” Baker and Zach Wheat both were 7s, which are the highest-graded examples of each card by SGC.

“It’s like a dream come true,” Sue said. “I watch ‘Antique Roadshow’ all the time and I do like antiques. So, you just always think, ‘Oh, maybe someday this will be worth something.’ But I never thought it would be baseball cards in my life that would be worth it. It’s fun to wake up every day and have this to look forward to.”

All 178 of The Sporting News cards will be featured in Heritage Auctions’ Fall Sports Collectibles Catalog Auction on Dec. 10-13. The cards are separated in three lots: one ABOVE: Joe Jackson 1916 Sporting News card.

TOP: Babe Ruth 1916 Sporting News rookie card.

CENTER: Frank Baker 1915 Sporting News card.

FAR RIGHT: Zach Wheat 1916 Sporting News card.

for the Ruth rookie; one for the Jackson; and the third lot for the remaining 176 cards, which includes the likes of Ty Cobb (graded SCG 2), Honus Wagner (SGC 4), Walter Johnson (SGC 5), Nap Lajoie (SGC 4), Grover Alexander (SGC 6) and George Sisler (SGC 3). That large lot is estimated to get $25,000.

The Ruth, which Grady said is an extremely nice 4 that could have garnered a 5 holder, is estimated to sell for $200,000.

"We try and be conservative on our estimates," Grady said. "I think it's going to go higher than that, because I think the card is potentially under-graded. It's fresh to the hobby and it's got nice eye appeal. With all that going for it and in a good market, yeah, I think it sells for over $200,000."

In SGC's population report, it has graded 15 Ruth M101-4 rookies and only five are graded higher than the 4 that Sue's card received.

The Jackson card, which is estimated to fetch $10,000, has only been graded seven times by SGC, with only two other examples getting higher grades.

"We're just so thrilled and can't believe it. As I say, it's a blessing," Sue said. "We never would have expected this. It's like you want to hit the lottery. One time I won $500 in all these years. This is better than the lottery."

J=K CANDY FIND

Another great find that will be featured in Heritage Auctions' upcoming auction are 21 cards from the 1912 J=K Candy set (J=K stands for J. Koenigsberg). Every card is in a lot of its own.

According to Heritage Auctions consignment director and vintage card expert Peter Calderon, there are nine uncatalogued cards that were found and will be sold. They are: Ty Cobb (Type 2); Eddie Collins – he was known as a Type 1 – this is a Type 2; Zach Wheat (Type 1); Mordecai Brown (Type 1); Thomas Needham (Type 2); Frank Schulte (Type 2); Ginger Beaumont (Type 1); Chick Lathers (Type 1) – his only other card is his M116 Sporting Life; and Eddie Cicotte (Type 2).

J=K Candy is a unique set. The cards are cut out from opposing panels of the box, noted Calderon. The boxes included "candy and jewelry."

They come in two types: Type 1 cards are black and white with a black frame and Type 2 are black and orange and have heads extended.

"For the vintage card collector, this is an incredible collection," Calderon said. "As a collector myself, I just love these finds and this one is the perfect combination of rarity and familiarity. The set is incredibly rare overall, but you have guys like Cobb,

Mathewson

Nap Lajoie

Mathewson, Lajoie, Collins, Mordecai Brown – all names every vintage collector will recognize. This set wasn't even identified until a partial box was found revealing who produced them. The box advertised 100 subjects, but only 43 names were known before this collection. This collection consisted of 21 cards, which is amazing in and of itself."

Discovering a Cobb card that previously wasn't known to be in the J=K Candy set is huge to the hobby. These days where one-of-one cards of modern players are pulling in big money, finding the first Cobb in a set is almost unheard of.

"Cobb collectors have a new Cobb to add to their collection," Calderon said. "Finding this card is like finding out after 50 years Babe Ruth was the 30th R306 Butter Cream card. Plus, the (Cobb) image is his iconic Carl Horner portrait."

Out of the 21 cards, the highest grade is an SGC 3 for Harry Steinfeldt. The Cobb is graded a 1 and is estimated at $20,000. Christy Mathewson is a 1 with an estimate at $8,000 and Nap Lajoie is a 1.5, estimated at $6,000.

AN AUCTION FOR EVERYONE

Heritage Auctions' Fall Sports Collectibles Catalog Auction features 3,784 lots. It's chock-full of eye-popping items.

"It's one of the best auction's we've ever had, just because of the depth and breadth of it," Grady said. "Game-used bats, game-used jerseys. We have a Bobby Orr photo-matched jersey and a Jimmie Foxx game-used bat from the Jimmie Foxx Collection, graded a 9.5."

There are some massive pieces up for sale in this auction, starting with a 1979 O-Pee-Chee Wayne Gretzky PSA 10. With a population of two, it's estimated at $1 million. There is also a 1979 Topps Gretzky PSA 10 at $400,000. A 2013-14 Panini Prizm Giannis Antetokounmpo 1/1 BGS 9.5 and autograph 10 is looking to fetch $750,000. With Michael Jordan cards being on fire during the pandemic, the 1997 Metal Universe Precious Gems Green, numbered 9/10, is one of the best MJ cards around. Graded PSA Authentic, which is because it measured factory small and is supposedly not trimmed, it is estimated at $500,000.

The vintage wax selection in this auction is unbelievable, noted Grady. There is a box of 1979-80 O-Pee-Chee hockey estimated at $100,000. There are also boxes of 1986-87 Fleer Basketball, 1970 Topps Basketball and 1968 and '71 Topps Football – all wrapped by the Baseball Card Exchange.

"The market's hot and people came through in droves with consignments," Grady said. "I took in a little 19th Century find also with a four-base hits card, some G&B's (1888 E223 G&B Chewing Gum)."

Wayne Gretzky 1979 O-Pee-Chee rookie card.

There was also a new Lou Gehrig rookie discovered. It is a 1925 Exhibits graded SGC VG-3, which is estimated at $50,000.

There are Mike Schmidt and George Brett rookie cards in PSA 10s. Both are estimated to garner $40,000.

"This auction is estimated to be the biggest ever for Heritage Sports," Calderon said. "I hope there is something for everyone."

2021 NEW and UPDATED SPORTS ADDRESS LISTS

Pre-Orders for the 2021 address lists will begin on November 1st. The initial shipping date is January 4th 2021. Unfortunately, they cannot be shipped in time for Christmas presents.

My sports address lists are the best and most accurate lists available for the through the mail autograph collector, and there is one winner: YOU!

I'd like to invite everyone to stop by my website at www.sportsaddresslists.com and see the lineup of great sports address lists for 2021, each one a proven winner.

1) BASEBALL ADDRESS LIST

There are over 8,900 addresses for 2021, including of over 300 players who charge a fee to sign for autographs through the mail and their fee. Also, there are coaches, umpires, executives and broadcasters, some never seen on any other sports address lists before. There will never be a listing for a player that reads "Old Address".

Added this year are over 130 players that made their major league debut in 2020.

This is the best and most accurate baseball address list on the market.

2) FOOTBALL ADDRESS LIST (now has over 12,000 addresses)

3) HOCKEY ADDRESS LIST (now has over 5300 addresses)

4) BASKETBALL ADDRESS LIST (NBA – ABA – WNBA and HOFers)

5) GOLF ADDRESS LIST – (now lists major golf tournaments a player has won)

6) MINOR LEAGUE BALLPLAYERS LIST (hundreds of new/updated addresses)

7) MEN AND WOMEN OF DISTINCTION (This is the best non-sports address list being sold and includes addresses for author, cartoonists, astronauts, Nobel Prize recipients and more).

PLUS, when you order any of the address lists, and include your email address, you will receive address update emails several times a year. You will also receive several emails letting you know players who have recently started to charge a fee to sign through the mail.

No other address list producer sends out as much information to customers as I do.

Who do these email address updates help? YOU! Because you won't be wasting postage sending requests to outdated addresses.

For more information on all of the great sports address lists, please visit my website at:

Luis Robert Bowman Chrome 1/1 Superfractor up for bid at Lelands

The only Luis Robert Bowman Chrome base Superfractor rookie in existence will be up for bid in Lelands' 2020 Fall Classic Auction opening Sunday, Nov. 15. known specimens from the mysterious regional issue. Both cards received minimal 1.5 grades and were sold with the Mantle fetching nearly $25,000.

This PSA gem mint 10 has been in possession of the consigner since the card was pulled back in 2018. He recently submitted it for grading at PSA, which then featured it on Instagram to promote its "Freshly Certified" series.

This sale will establish the market for this card, but experts at Lelands believe the winning bid will be north of $20,000. In 2018, Luis Robert was considered one of the premier blue-chip prospects in all of baseball. This year, he proved the prognosticators right by becoming one of four finalists for American League Rookie of the Year, leading all rookies this season in RBI and tied for first in home runs. He finished second among MLB rookies in runs, extra-base hits, and total bases. His slugging percentage was third among rookies.

Lelands experts believe this may be the only chance for someone to own this card for quite some time.

"Luis Robert could go on to have a Hall of Fame career, and this '1-of-1' specimen will skyrocket in value as his career progresses," says Lelands Acquisition Director Jordan Gilroy. "I would not be surprised if the winning bidder puts this card away until Robert's career is over."

Lelands 2020 Fall Classic Auction opens for bidding Sunday, Nov. 15, at 7 p.m. EST and continues for four weeks until Dec. 11. You can check out the 2018 Bowman Chrome Luis Robert Superfractor Rookie at lelands.com.

A DIAMOND WITH HISTORICAL VALUE

Oscar Huber Memorial Ballpark is an iconic gem in Madrid, N.M.

BY GARY HERRON

IT'S CALLED THE TURQUOISE TRAIL, but there's a gorgeous diamond along the way.

And I was there on a sunny Sunday afternoon in early May, 61 years to the day from when I saw Charlie Maxwell homer four times in a Detroit Tigers' doubleheader sweep of the New York Yankees at Briggs Stadium in Detroit – and possibly, in this COVID-19 nightmare of 2020, I was the only man literally in a ballpark that day.

Munching on fried chicken and coleslaw, washing it down with a cold lemonade, the wife and I had to “get out of town” that day, and our destination was Madrid (pronounced MAD-rid), New Mexico, the scene for a lot of the action in the Tim Allen-John Travolta-William H. Macy movie of a few years ago, “Wild Hogs.”

No doubt, thousands of vehicles – probably at least 60 percent of them motorcycles – pass through Madrid, once a ghost town but today more like historic Taos without the pueblo. And at least 99 percent of the motorists zip past the ballpark, either uninterested or unaware of its significance.

The iconic Oscar Huber Memorial Ballpark, built about 100 years ago by the Madrid Employees Club, was once home to the famous Madrid Miners (a Double-A team). It was the first lighted ballpark on the west side of the Mississippi River, and said to draw as many as 6,000 visitors for the Sunday afternoon games, even though Madrid's population was only 3,000 at the height of the coal-mining era. (The coal-mining era began dying when the railroads switched from coal-powered locomotives to diesel power; the town's mines soon closed and Madrid became a ghost town for several decades before being sold to private landowners, who have turned it into a thriving place for the state's talented artisans.)

The ballpark is named for Oscar Huber, who, in 1910, started to work for the Albuquerque and Cerrillos Coal Company, which owned and operated Madrid as a coal-mining town. Huber was soon promoted to superintendent and then became the owner, taking steps to improve life for the miners and their families by paving streets, building the stadium as well as a hospital and new homes, and providing electricity to the town.

Rumor has it that the legendary House of David barnstorming team played an exhibition game here one time. And it's not a rumor that the Miners hired "ringers," guys who never stepped foot into the lung-choking mines, to bolster their chances on the diamond.

With a rare tin roof and grandstands installed in 1928 and stone walls and steps added by the Works Progress Administration in 1935, the ballpark is a historic landmark and remains in use today, hosting concerts, the occasional softball game and other outdoor events. Recent renovations by Spears Horn Architects included rebuilding the grandstands in the original design and adding a new outfield fence, well over 300 feet from home plate.

What better way to end a hot, sweaty day in a coal mine than for workers to emerge into the afternoon sunlight and play a game of baseball in the ballpark?

Baseball fans perusing Facebook this spring had lamented seeing their plans to visit an American League or National League ballpark for the first time quashed by the coronavirus. And although fewer people are traveling, those planning to drive through New Mexico on Interstate-40 can take a 35-mile or so detour north on NM 14, just east of Albuquerque, and enjoy this "Old West" ballpark.
